

Building Confidence in Sport

ADS is operated by the Association of National Anti-Doping Organisations (ANADO). The main objectives of ANADO are to support the development of comprehensive national anti-doping programs and to serve as a resource for anti-doping professionals and staff.

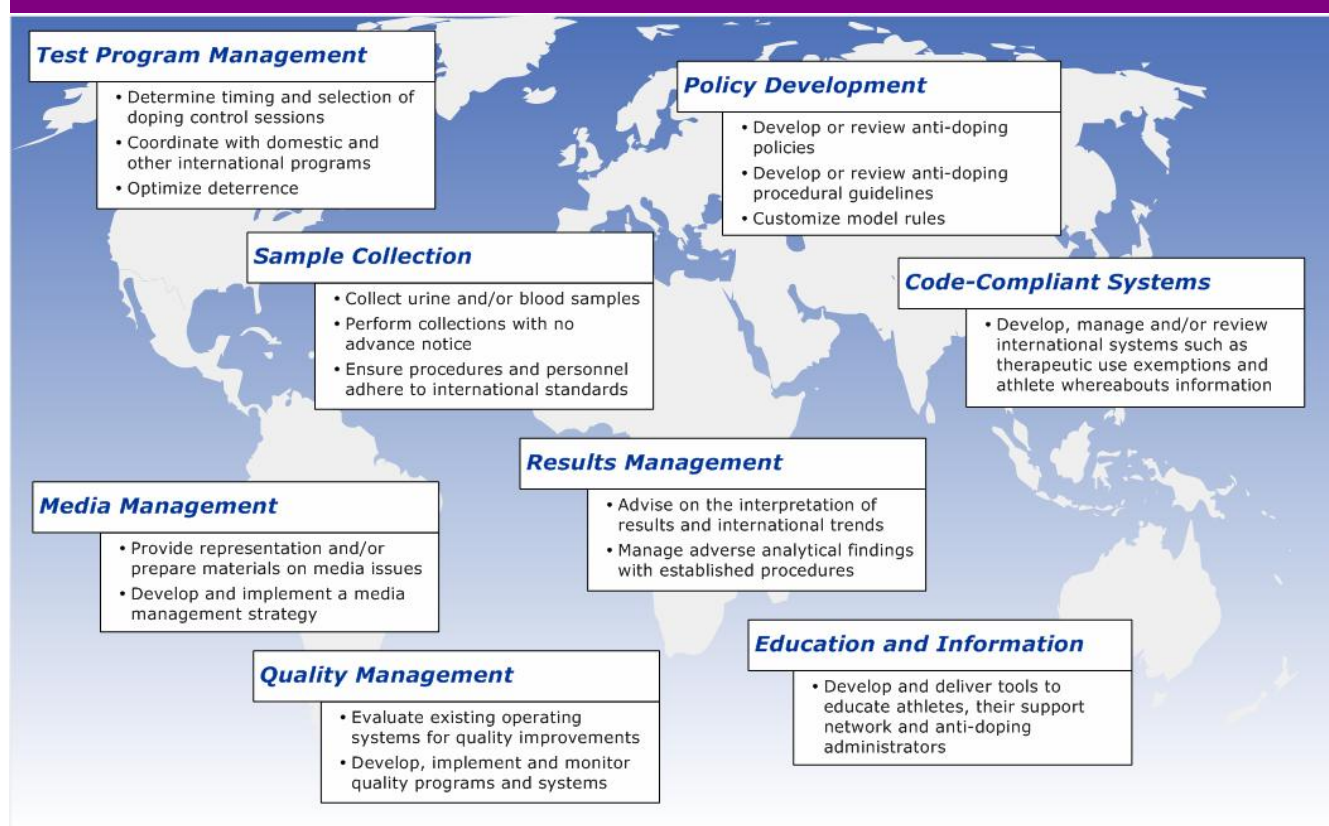

Anti-Doping Services (ADS) is a central supplier of quality anti-doping services to international sport federations, major Games and other key stakeholders in the international sport community.

ADS is committed to building worldwide capacity to achieve doping-free sport.

ADS consists of a worldwide network of national anti-doping organisations (NADOs). This network provides extensive expertise and experience in all facets of anti-doping.

As a not-for-profit service provider, ADS is committed to ensuring all proceeds invested in ADS remain within the sport community. All proceeds will effectively be recycled within sport in order to progress worldwide anti-doping initiatives to support a doping-free future.

Anti-Doping Services

Strategic Relationships

ADS relies on the complementary expertise of the individual NADOs. The NADO network shares a commitment to harmonising best practices for doping control in compliance with international standards.

ADS is committed to utilising the experience and expertise of the NADO network to continually expand its international presence.

The NADO network provides an extensive pool of certified sample collection officers, greater coordination between international and domestic programs as well as providing regional, cultural, and language expertise.

The NADO network has had longstanding contractual and professional relationships with WADA-accredited laboratories around the world.

These laboratories maintain best practices in the field of blood and urine detection methodologies and operate in accordance with international standards.
